

FORETOLD HIS OWN SUICIDE

Louis A. Tucker, Determined to Die, Wrote to His Daughter Where to Find His Body After Death.

HE WAS TRUE TO HIS WORD.

Found Dead in a Hotel Room, Where He Had Turned on the Gas and Taken Laudanum, in a Fit of Despondency.

Louis A. Tucker, who lived, until two weeks ago, at No. 111 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, wrote last night to his daughter Charlotte, whose home is in Grand street, that if she would send today to the Occidental Hotel, at Broome street and Bowery, she would find his body.

True to his word he killed himself this morning and the body was found in room No. 53, two doors from a room occupied during the night by Timothy D. Sullivan.

The daughter, who did not give her exact address to the police, told Sgt. Troupe, of the Mulberry street station house, this morning of the letter from her father and this led to the discovery.

When the police entered the room where Tucker had slept they found his half-dressed body on the bed. Two gas jets had been turned on.

A blanket had been stuffed into the transom. Near the bedside was found an empty one ounce bottle labelled laudanum.

According to the daughter, Tucker had been drinking heavily of late. On account of this he had lost a position, but recently was employed as a sales agent by Spielman & Co., at Greene and Grand streets, who are agents for a silk mill at Norristown, Pa.

It is said also that Tucker was recently separated from a second wife, who left him because of his intemperance habits and who placed their two small children in the convent of the Sacred Heart at One Hundred and Thirty-first street and Convent avenue. This wife was forced to seek employment and says that she heard from Tucker only yesterday. That he had written in a cheerful vein and had promised to reform. The first intimation she had of his death was when the police notified her to-day.

STOLE A POLICE CAPTAIN'S GEMS.

Thief Captured While Trying to Dispose of Diamond Worth $300 for $100.

The house of Capt. Thomas F. Donovan, of No. 156 Dean street, Brooklyn, of the County Court-House police squad, was entered by thieves yesterday afternoon by means of a basement window.

A three and a half carat diamond stud, valued at $300, and several other articles, valued at $100, were taken. The captain when informed of the robbery caused an alarm to be sent out.

Detective-Sergeant Granville and Fernelson, of the Central Office, were in a Bowery pawnshop at 5 o'clock last night, when a man entered and tried to dispose of a stud which resembled that stolen from Capt. Donovan.

Said He Knew a Detective.

The detectives talked with the man and during the conversation he said he was William H. Purcell, a nephew of Mrs. Purcell, of No. 346 East Forty-seventh street, who had sent him to raise money on the stud. He was well acquainted, he said, with one of the Oak street station detectives.

Not being entirely sure of their man the detectives decided that they would walk to the Oak street station and find the detective said to be known by the suspect, but they had only got to the door when the supposed Purcell took to his heels and ran east on Broome street to Chrystie. He was captured, and later the detective learned that his real name was William H. Lodge, of No. 326 Baltic street, Brooklyn.

Lodge was arraigned before Magistrate Plummer in Tombs Court to-day and remanded to the custody of Brooklyn detectives.

Wanted to Save Brother.

Lodge later told a different story and said he had obtained the diamond from a man known to the police and his friends as "Socks" Moriarty.

Lodge, the police say, has a brother who is now in Raymond street jail, Brooklyn, awaiting transportation to the Elmira Reformatory, as a result of having been convicted of larceny. William, they say, thought he could help his brother if he could obtain $100.

SIMMONS HAS NO PROPERTY.

Marshal Couldn't Satisfy Execution Against Bank-Wrecker.

United States Marshal Henkel has returned as unsatisfied an $11,180 execution against the property of James A. Simmons, who, in 1890 wrecked the Sixth National bank, at Thirty-fourth street and Broadway. The execution was secured by the White National Bank, of Fort Wayne.

Simmons was indicted together with George H. Pell Oct. 7, 1890, charged with having, in a peaceful and orderly manner, defrauded the Sixth National Bank. He served six years in the Erie County prison. The indictment against Pell was dismissed.

STRUCK BY ERIE TRAIN.

Jersey City Man May Die from His Injuries.

Vincent Rupp, of Newark avenue and First street, Jersey City, was struck by an incoming passenger train at the Erie Railroad tunnel to-day.

His ribs were broken and he was injured internally. He was taken to St. Francis' Hospital, where it is said his injuries are fatal. He is twenty-five years old.

GIRL A CLEVER ORIGINATOR OF ODD ADVERTISEMENTS.

BRIGHT GIRLS IN UNIQUE "AD" FIRM

Miss Minnie Maud Hanff Originator of Jingles that Advertise a Breakfast Food.

In a story recently printed in The Evening World about Dorothy Ficken, the sixteen-year-old artist, who so amusingly illustrates "Jim Dumps" and "Sunny Jim" in the Force advertisements, an inadvertent omission was made. Miss Minnie Maud Hanff, the originator of the "Jim Dumps" and "Sunny Jim" idea, and the writer of the jingles that accompany the illustrations, was overlooked.

It is the desire of Miss Ficken that her friend and collaborator be given due credit for her share in the success of the advertisements.

The girls are business partners, not only in the production of the Force ads, but in other advertising work that brings them a large income. In addition they are at work on a book of nonsense rhymes, to be illustrated by Miss Ficken, whose talent in that line is remarkable, considering her youth. They are now engaged in getting up a series of "Sunny Jim" advertisements to be used in France and Germany.

CHILD AT PLAY RUN DOWN.

Like a Hero He Began His Mother Not to Cry.

Michael Enright, only five years old, of No. 185 South street, Jersey City, while playing in front of his home in view of his mother, was run down today by a team of horses driven by Paletto Vertio. The child's body was trampled on and bruised and the left arm was broken.

"I'm all right, mamma," he said, when picked up. "Don't cry, mamma, please don't." and then he became unconscious.

Vertio surrendered himself for arrest, but Mrs. Enright said as long as she knew his address she was satisfied. Vertio lives at No. 43 Leonard street, Jersey City. The child was removed to the hospital.

An Inexpensive California Trip

figures rather surprise you? Is there here in the east people are suffering from the cold? Surely it's worth investigating—it won't cost

Is it worth while to fight through the winter at home, when you can so easily go where the perfect climate will keep you strong and vigorous?

If you can possibly get away, and particularly if you are not in the best of health, why not plan to spend part, if not all, of the coming winter in California, away from the extreme cold and the miserable weather we are likely to have? Does the idea seem extravagant? Well, there is no reason in the world why you should not make the trip if you have the time, because the expense of going is really very little, and the cost of living in California is exceedingly moderate.

We are going to sell special tickets to California every day during October, for a less price than ever before. Later on we will have other cheap rates.

In our Pullman Tourist Sleeping Cars a berth which holds two persons comfortably, costs only $6 from Chicago or St. Louis to California. All the bedding, of the very finest sort, entirely free.

We can tell you about a lot of hotels and boarding-houses in California where you can live nicely for from $7 to $15 per week. Don't these rates really any reason why you should not spend a while in California? We have here in the east people are suffering from the cold? Surely it's worth investigating—it won't cost

RUNAWAY HEARSE PLUNGED IN RIVER.

Horses Drowned, and Crowd Started to Save Corpse, Which Was Not in Vehicle.

A sheet of paper carried by a gust of wind frightened a team of horses attached to an undertaker's wagon standing in front of J. Stokes's undertaking rooms, at No. 120 East One Hundred and Sixth street, this afternoon, and the animals bolted for the East River.

As the black wagon had just driven up to the place and the driver had gone into the house, it was believed by those who had seen it that it contained the body of a dead person.

When the team started off, frightened and driven by the pedestrians became excited, shouted, ran after the runaway and tried to stop what they believed would be a catastrophe to the dead. But the horses were fleet and kept straight on their course down to the river.

On to the pier they went, dragging the wagon in a zig-zag course after them, until they reached the end of the pier, and then they plunged in, the wagon following them.

The team and wagon, mostly submerged, were floating with the tide, when a handy longshoreman anchored them with a pike hook, and after that efforts were made to bring the horses and hearse ashore.

But the wagon dragged the horses under and they were drowned. The traces were cut, and fully a hundred men, believing that a human body was in the wagon, tugged and pulled at it to get it on the pier. Just as the back doors of the hearse were being opened the undertaker arrived and said:

"It's a mighty good thing I just delivered that corpse."

The wagon was empty and the disappointed heroes dispersed.

ARREST FOR BAND THAT BOKE POLICE

Germans, Playing at 7 A. M., Disturbed Inspector Kane, so They Were Haled to Court.

Magistrate Hogan had before him this morning six members of an itinerant German band, who had been corralled by Patrolman Sappe in the back yard of No. 32 East Fifty-sixth street. Each member carried his instrument, all of which were brass, ranging from a large oboe to a cornet. The men themselves were as divergent in size as were their instruments, and not one of them could speak English.

Sappe had arrested the band at 7 A. M. In the block in which they were residing Police Inspector Kane, ex-Assemblyman Rosenthal and others less known to fame. They were all awakened by the playing of the tune, "Rise with the Lark in the Morning," and other airs.

At first the general impression was that they were a harmless band of musicians, but when he was seen hauling a boatload in their direction that idea was dropped. The Inspector's example was followed by others of the flat dwellers in the neighborhood, but still the band played on. At last Sappe heard the disturbance and arrested the band.

On the way to court the leader, Jacob Messenheimer, asked the policeman if he couldn't have some breakfast before being taken to court.

"What do you want for breakfast?" asked Sappe.

He was told that he would have to be content with water.

The news of the arrest reached Solomon Rosenthal. The unfriendly feeling which most of the band's audience felt did not extend to Mr. Rosenthal, who, after hearing of their predicament, he dressed, went to court and volunteered to defend the musicians.

"The leader of the band, who is not aware of the law forbade them playing so early in the morning, Your Honor," said he to Magistrate Hogan. "Give these poor fellows a chance. 'Give them a chance,' echoed the Magistrate. 'I think they should give the people who want to sleep a chance. Tell them not to do it again, and I'll discharge them.'"

Mr. Rosenthal talked in German with the leader and explained the law to them. Then they left the court to get "breakfast" at the nearest saloon.

CHILD AFIRE RESCUED.

Little Nellie Keating, five years old, was playing with several other little children around a small bonfire, built of paper, on a lot in front of her home, No. 506 West Forty-ninth street, this morning. The little one got too near the flames, which leaped up and ignited her muslin dress.

In a moment she was enveloped in flames, but passers-by quickly rushed to the rescue and extinguished them. The child was carried to her home by a policeman, where Dr. Haveson took her to Roosevelt Hospital. She will probably recover.

COMMANDER M'LEAN HERE.

He Refuses to Talk of the Revolution in Colombia.

Commander McLean, of the United States cruiser Albatross, arrived to-day from Colon on the steamship Security of the Panama Railroad Company.

The commander, when asked to relate some of his experiences with the revolutionists, said that as a naval officer he would have to refuse to make any statement. The commander leaves for Washington to-night.

Others who arrived on the steamship The Count Villahermosa, from Guatemala, and J. G. Dugue, of Colon.

EXPLANATION TO THE PUBLIC.

The old family apothecaries, Carleton & Hovey, of Lowell, Mass., established in 1817, have in their possession the old prescription book in which is filed the prescription for Father John's Medicine as written by the eminent specialist who prescribed it for the late Father John O'Brien, of Lowell, by whom it was recommended to his friends and parishioners, and from whom it derived its name—and was advertised with his knowledge and approval. It is not a patent medicine, and it is free from morphine, opium, or other poisonous drugs. The money is refunded for any bronchial trouble, cough or cold it does not cure. It makes strength and prevents pneumonia—invaluable as a tonic and body builder for weak and run-down systems. Not a new medicine—50 years in use. If your druggist does not have it, he can get it for you. The 21 bottles contain three times the quantity of the 50-cent size. It is guaranteed, and the money is refunded if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

A WORD TO FARM TOILERS.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND,

The Home Friend of the Farmer and His Family in the Autumn Season.

After the labors and toils of the summer time and harvesting of crops in the early autumn many of our farmers, their wives, daughters and sons find themselves in a condition of health demanding careful attention if suffering is to be avoided later on. Many experience kidney trouble in some form; with some the liver is torpid; there is biliousness, nausea and vomiting, with loss of appetite and depression of spirits. Thousands who have been exposed to cold, damp winds and rains while rolling in the harvest fields now feel the twinges of terrible rheumatism; others run down by worry, overwork and irregular dieting, are tormented with the pangs of dyspepsia.

To the thousands of run-down, sickly and half-dressed men and women in farm homes we recommend with all honesty and confidence the worker's friend, Paine's Celery Compound, the only medicine that can quickly and fully restore strength to the weak body and vigor to the muscles. Paine's Celery Compound tones the stomach; it removes poisonous acids from the blood which cause rheumatism; it feels the weak and diseased nerves and banishes neuralgic tortures; it purifies the blood and gives true vitality and life. The use of Paine's Celery Compound in autumn means the establishing of a perfect physical vigor to withstand the rigors of a severe winter.

Saks & Company

SPECIALISTS IN APPAREL FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

CONCERNING THE MEN.

We have won the faith and confidence of many in the most practical way—they're wearing Saks apparel. Some men came no farther than our windows. They saw the clothes; they recognized their superiority. Naturally, they expected the cost would be high. This impression is wrong—very wrong. Had they but seen our suits and coats at fifteen or twenty dollars they would know it to be wrong. While the tailoring, fabrics and fit are all they can possibly be, the cost is no more than the ordinary kind sells for elsewhere.

The shop is extensive; the workers are of the cleverest. No matter how new the garment, either in cut or fabric, you'll find it here.

SEPARATE TROUSERS.

Perhaps you have an odd coat and vest; a pair of these trousers will help them for further service. They are of this season's fabrics and perfectly tailored.

Men's Trousers of Worsteds and Scotch Cheviots, full assortment of patterns, sizes to 56 inch waist. .$.50 Exceptional value.

Young Men's Trousers, 350 pairs, of Cassimere and Worsteds; many patterns to choose from; waist measure 28 to 33, length 29 to 33 $2.50 Exceptional value.

FIFTH FLOOR.

THE $3.50 SHOE FOR MEN

has already made its mark. We are not surprised. Men are quick to appreciate the extraordinary - - especially in their apparel. This shoe is extraordinary. Some shoes have style, some give service, others comfort. The Saks shoe combines all three qualities and has a metallic oak sole—that makes it absolutely waterproof. You may have calfskin, box-calf, vici-kid, enamel or patent leather; double or medium weight soles. The shop is conveniently located on the main floor, with sufficient salespeople to make waiting unnecessary.

MAIN FLOOR.

"SAKSONETTE" UNDERWEAR

Good news for the odd men. "Hard to fit" has no meaning here. SAKSONETTE is the reason. Short and stout or tall and thin men may have their underwear to fit them. No more tinkering with garments that were made for somebody else; Saksonette is made especially for them. It does not cost any more, either.

Natural wool, winter weight, per garment $1.50 Higher grades if you want them.

OTHER UNDERWEAR FOR MEN.

Merino, natural or white, medium weight 50 cents
Merino, natural or white, medium or heavy weight, 75 cents
Natural or white, medium or heavy weight, ribbed or flat, $1.00
Balbriggan Ribbed, winter weight, foreign or domestic, $1.50
Merino, winter weight, natural or white $1.50 to $7.00
Silk and wool, natural or white $4.50 up
Pure Silk Underwear at $6.00 to $24.00 per garment.
We have a complete line of the celebrated "Stuttgarter" Underwear, in all weights and qualities, at list prices, $1.50 upward.

Also all the well known kinds, either imported or domestic.

MAIN FLOOR.

BOYS' SUITS

Well dressed—well behaved—is generally the rule with boys. It fosters self-respect and self-restraint. Mischief is subdued by the dignity which good clothes impose upon him. By "good clothes" we mean Saks clothes. They are not indifferently made, neither are they of last year's fabrics.

No matter what style or for what occasion, we have it—sometimes exclusively. One of these is a white pique wash suit, fleece lined in Russian Blouse style.

Norfolk Suits, double breasted, blue serge, blue, black or mixed chevrons, assorted patterns, 8 to 14 years; good value $5.00

SECOND FLOOR.

BAGS AND HAT BOXES

are usually bought in a hurry; some pressing need or an unexpected journey sends you post-haste in search of them. It will be a long time until you need a new one if you get a Saks bag or hat box. They are made for service.

SPECIAL OFFER FOR WEDNESDAY, OCT. 15.

Fitted Bags of walrus hide, full leather lined, with comb, brush and toilet requisites necessary for travel, in tan, brown or black $12.50 Usual price, $15.00.

Club Bags of English pigskin, hand sewed, red goat-skin lined $10.00 Usual price, $15.00.

Men's English Hat Box of solid sole leather, hand sewed edge, Yale lock, high hasp, heavy straps and buckles, satin lined with puff top, and collar and cuff compartment; will hold silk hat or derby and opera hat $6.50 Usual price, $10.00.
